Bolens revolutionary
QT-16. Out there working with the top drivers of 1974.

Winning drivers depend on the Quiet Power of the Bolens QT-16.

That kind of responsibility takes super dependability. Bolens has it. Would a majority of chief mechanics, drivers and crews use it as their pit vehicle if it didn't have what it takes?

When you're looking for a big power tractor to cut any lawn or garden job down to size, look to Bolens. The tractor chosen by the winners. FMC Corporation, Outdoor Power

WELCOME!

July 14, 1974

Dear Race Fan:

The Miller High Life 200 marks the start of the United States Auto Club late model stock car racing season at the Wisconsin State Fair Speedway. Three more events for the powerful 1972-74 models remain on the 1974 calendar.

This is the seventh year that the Miller Brewing Company has chosen to sponsor the event. Their promotional efforts, plus a healthy contribution to the purse, help make the "Miller" the big dollar stop on the USAC stock circuit.

So cheer on your favorite driver and/or make of car and enjoy one of the finest stock car events in the country.

On behalf of the Miller Brewing Company and Wisconsin Auto Racing, Inc., welcome to the weekend of speed known as the Miller High Life 200. As always, your comments are welcome.

Sincerely,

John Kaishian, Tom Marchese

TONY BETTENHAUSEN-MILLER HIGH LIFE
 LATE MODEL AWARD WINNERS

 best*

There is no track championship for each season at the Wisconsin State Fair Speedway. The points won on the Milwaukee Mile only count toward the national championship in the United States Auto Club's Championship Car and Stock Car divisions.

The next best thing to the track championship is the Tony Bettenhausen-Miller High Life Award. Each year a panel selects the outstanding driver of the season in each division.

The Miller Brewing Company has been sponsoring the award since 1961, part of its involvement in the world of professional sports.

Miller has also sponsored the July stock car race since 1968.

Miller and top notch auto racing have been part of the Milwaukee scene for decades.

It is a good combination.

 CHAMPIONSHIP AWARD WINNERS

BUTCH HARTMAN received his first winning victory trophy of the season (and first ever here) after winning the July 8 Miller High Life 200. Trophy girl Dana Baker helped him hold up the huge piece of hardware. Larry Williams, vice president of marketing and sales for Miller, helped in the presentation.

THE FIELD FOR THE Aug. 19 Fair 200 came around a lap before the start with Jack Bowsher on the pole. In the fastest qualifier department, Bowsher was just as consistent as Hartman, taking the pole for all four races here. Roger McCluskey started next to Bowsher with eventual winner Butch Hartman right behind Bowsher's 1971 Ford Torino.

Butch's

Jack Bowsher won the pole.

Butch Hartman won the race.

The above two sentences sum up the 1973 United States Auto Club stock car racing season at the Wisconsin State Fair Speedway.

All four events run on the Milwaukee Mile used the same script, only the cast of also-rans varied.

Hartman, driving a 1973 Dodge Charger with the familiar number 75, hadn't won a race at Milwaukee, though he had a string of two consecutive USAC stock titles to his credit. All that changed in the Miller 200, when he finally came home a winner.

The two Fair Week races, the 150 and 200

Year-1973

also found Butch riding in the victory vehicle.

The Sept. 9 Governor's Cup 250 answered the question as to whether Hartman could be the first driver since Parnelli Jones in 1964 to finish first in all four events.

He could and did.

Not only did Butch sweep the season, he also clinched his third straight USAC crown, an unprecedented accomplishment.

Bowsher didn't break the track record, but he never started a race worse than first. The 1971 Torino driver clearly had the fastest car on the track—in time trials. Bowsher finished three of the four races with two seconds, a fifth and a 29th when a blown engine sidelined him.

Frank Kern photo

THE WINNINGEST driver in the history of the Milwaukee Mile, Don White (#9-1972 Charger), battled 1973's winningest driver, Butch Hartman (#75-1973 Charger) in the Governor's Cup 250. White, the defending race champion, dropped out after 214 laps with a blown engine and you know what Hartman did.

Tom Kern Photo

A COUPLE OF NASCAR stars went at it in USAC country during the fair week races at the Wisconsin State Fair Speedway. Dave Marcis (#02-1973 Charger) finished fourth in the 150, but crashed in the 200. H. B. Bailey (#86-1973 Firebird) took an eighth in both events.

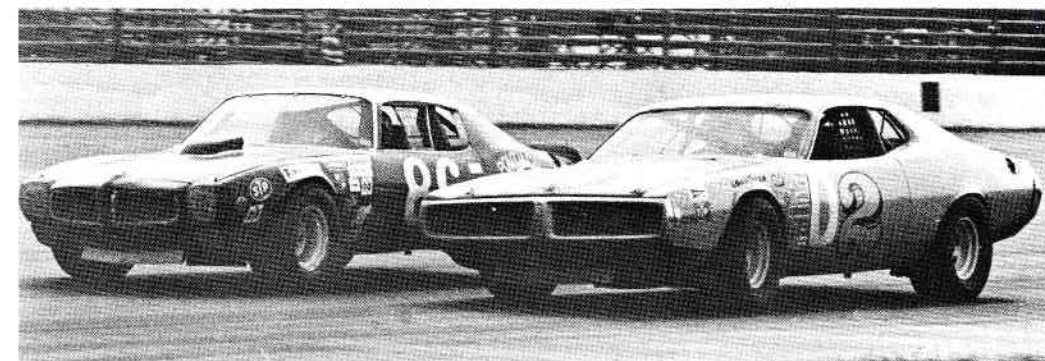

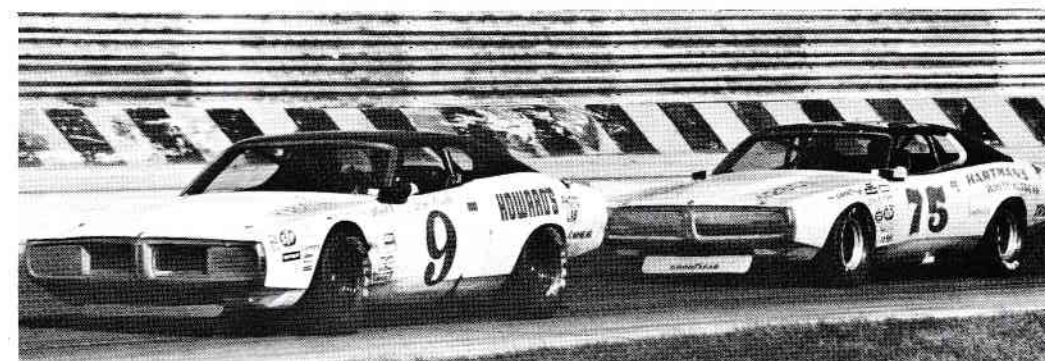

Russ Lake photo

BUTCH HARTMAN finished the season the way he started it, collecting trophies. While track announcer Jack Baker described the proceedings, Hartman waved to the crowd. Hartman received the Governor's Cup for winning the Sept. 9 event and the Tony Bettenhausen-Miller High Life award for being the top driver of the stock season. He also received a battery charger and other merchandise.

AFTER A LAYOFF for a back problem, Norm Nelson returned to the USAC stock car wars last year. Nelson fielded a 1971 Plymouth for himself (#11) and a 1972 model for Roger McCluskey. A third-place finish in the Fair 150 by Nelson was the best for the team during the season.

For the record

Don White Won 13

Since 1948, a total of 93 late model stock car races have been held on the mile oval at the Wisconsin State Fair Speedway. A total of 32 drivers have entered the victory circle with Don White of Keokuk, Iowa, the most prolific.

DON WHITE

White, who started racing here regularly in 1959, won the July 200 in 1962 and continued with a dozen more flags, the last of which was the 1972 Governor's Cup 250.

Runner-up in the tally is Norm Nelson of Racine, who has been racing most every year since 1948. Nelson has 11 victories, ranging from 1950 to 1966.

Parnelli Jones of Torrance, Calif., ranks third, scoring eight victories, including the 1964 Fair 200 when he co-drove a Mercury to victory with Rodger Ward.

Listed below are the winners and the range of the years in which they scored their victories:

1. Don White (1962-72)	13

FORD HAS ACCOUNTED for 32 of the 93 stock car wins on the Milwaukee Mile since 1948. Of those victories, the 1958 model has been the biggest winner with seven flags to its credit. This example is being driven by Tony Bettenhausen, who accounted for three of those triumphs.

This Is Ford Country

Ford drivers have accounted for better than a third of the stock car victories on the Milwaukee Mile, taking 32 firsts in the 93 events held here since 1948.

The first Ford win wasn't until 1956, but from then on the Dearborn product has been a consistent winner.

Last year Butch Hartman won all four events and pushed Dodge into second place on the all-time list, edging Mercury, 14 to 13.

With only a few makes active today, it is unlikely the list will undergo any radical changes in seasons to come.

Below is a list of the winning makes with the range of the years in which they scored their victories.

1. Ford (1956-72)	32
2. Dodge (1966-73)	14
3. Mercury (1955-64)	13
4. Plymouth (1965-72)	9
5. Hudson (1952-54)	7
6. Chevrolet (1949-72)	5
7. Chrysler (1954-55)	4
8. Oldsmobile (1950-51)	3
9. Packard (1953)	2
10. Kaiser (1948)	1
Cadillac (1949)	1
Lincoln (1950)	1
Pontiac (1962)	1

July 14, 1974

Now in its seventh year, the "Miller 200" is rapidly taking its place as one of the prestige stock car races in the nation. This rise to prominence didn't happen by chance. It was the result of hard work and dedication by many people. Special credit must go to our friends at Miller Brewing Company for their sponsorship and promotional support. And of course, everyone at Wisconsin Auto Racing should be complimented for the professional manner in which they produce this racing spectacle.

As you watch today's activity, I hope you'll notice the many improvements which have been made to our track. Not only has the pit area been enlarged but we've also increased the number of pits, raised and enlarged the official scoring and communications area, increased the size of all signal lights, refurbished the scoreboard, added observation posts, expanded communications and put in a private area for drivers to shower and change.

All of us at State Fair Park thank you for being here, and hope that today's race will provide the thrills and excitement you've come to expect from the great "Miller 200".

A Decade Ago

TEN YEARS AGO Norm Nelson was in his second year of building and driving factory Plymouths. In the July 12 200-miler he qualified his Fury 2-door hardtop for the outside front row and finished third. Parnelli Jones won the pole and the race.

RACE TIME IS MILLER TIME

Traditionally the Miller High Life 200 stock car race has been one of the most exciting of the season, and we at Miller Brewing Company are delighted to sponsor this USAC event for the seventh year. This is stock car racing at its finest with some of the best drivers in the country, along with the most appreciative fans anywhere.

With the prize fund in excess of $60,000, the Wisconsin State Fair Speedway competition is one of the richest USAC stock car events in the country. To all those who contributed to the success of the Miller High Life 200 over the years, we say "thank you," with a special note of appreciation to the professional efforts of Wisconsin Auto Racing, Inc. We at Miller hope you will enjoy the next few hours of racing thrills.

John A. Murphy, President
Miller Brewing Company

In recognition of the skill and competitive spirit shown by the drivers, the listed Miller High Life distributors from all across the state are donating $10 to the leading car of each lap for a total of $2,000 in lap prizes. In addition, each of the first 40 qualifying drivers will receive $100 with the remaining cars receiving $50 for their efforts.

Miller time is Race time

If you've got the time, we've got the beer.

Four Perennial Front Runners

Jack Bowsher

JACK BOWSHER of Springfield, Ohio, posted five of his 21 career USAC stock car wins at Milwaukee, including the 1971 Miller 200. In 1972 he won the Tony Bettenhausen-Miller High Life award as the top USAC late model driver here. Last year Bowsher won the pole for all four Milwaukee stock car races, finishing second in the Fair 200 and Governor's Cup 250 and fifth in the Miller 200.

Roger McCluskey

ROGER McCLUSKEY of Tucson, Ariz., won last season's USAC Championship driving title after winning the club's late model crowns in 1969 and 1970. Four of his 21 career late model victories came in Milwaukee, including the 1970 and 1972 Miller 200s. He drove a Norm Nelson-prepared Plymouth to second place finishes in the Miller 200 and Fair 150 here last year and took sixth in the USAC late model standings.

Bay Darnell

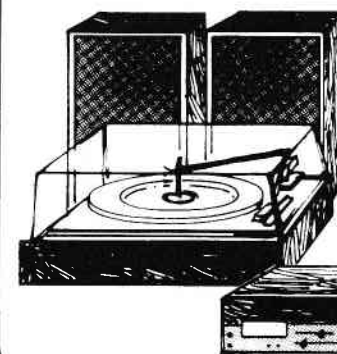

BAY DARNELL of Deerfield, Ill., enjoyed his finest year in USAC stock car competition in 1973, placing third in the point standings. Darnell, who has driven everything from jalopies to USAC Championship cars in his 17 years of racing, won several short track titles in Illinois and Wisconsin before campaigning USAC late models on a regular basis beginning in 1962. He placed 12th in last year's Miller 200.

Norm Nelson

NORM NELSON of Racine, won the USAC late model driving titles in 1960, 1965 and 1966 and hopes to become the first man ever to win a fourth crown this season. He also owned the division's title-winning cars six times. Nelson ranks second to Don White in career wins both in Milwaukee with 11 and overall with 35. A Miller 200 winner in 1955 and 1965, Nelson placed sixth in last year's event, en route to a ninth place finish in the point standings.

Whitey Gerken

1930—1973

Something will be missing from this year's USAC stock car racing season at the Wisconsin State Fair Speedway.

That something will be the special aura the name Whitey Gerken added to the field.

William "Whitey" Gerken died after a racing accident last Oct. 7 at the Illiana Speedway in Schererville, Ind. The throttle on the car he was driving jammed during time trials on the half-mile paved oval and it went through the retaining wall, also taking the life of a pit crew man.

Whitey, who was 43, is survived by his wife Pat and sons Richie and Tom.

He had two careers in racing, one in USAC stocks and the other in Chicago area short track late model racing.

Starting in 1958, Whitey was a regular competitor on the Milwaukee Mile here.

His biggest race was the Sept. 17, 1961 250-miler when he took the lead on the 239th mile and kept his 1960 Chevrolet out in front for his first USAC victory.

The following year he scored his second USAC stock win in a 50-miler at Illiana. His final USAC win came in a short track event in 1969 at Cincinnati.

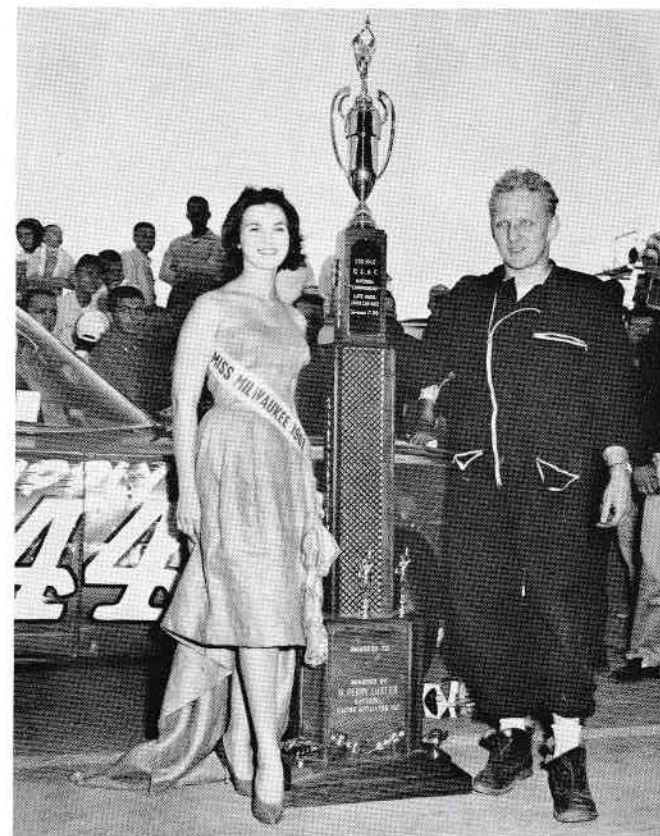

Several seasons he finished in the top 10 in the point standings.

In Chicago racing, he started competing on a limited basis in 1953 and regularly in 1957. He was a tough competitor at such tracks as Illiana, Grundy County, Rockford, Soldier Field and O'Hare.

The fans in Milwaukee could be counted on to cheer Whitey on, be it in a first class ride as he had when he drove for Jack Bowsher, or in a lesser mount.

Whitey could be counted on to be available as a relief driver if his car didn't make the field or if he retired early. And he could be counted on to give his all for you if he got into your car.

Whitey Gerken will be missed on both sides of the racetrack.

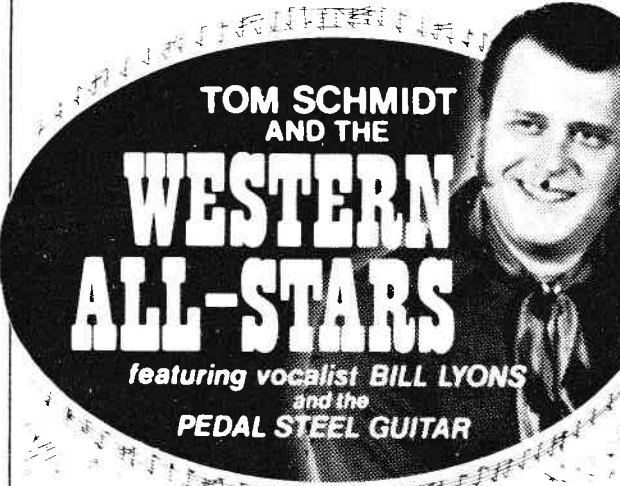

Armin Krueger photo

WHITEY GERKEN'S greatest moment at the Wisconsin State Fair Speedway came on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 17, when he won the 250-mile USAC stock car race. Here he is overshadowed by the huge trophy. Miss Milwaukee of 1961 shared the spotlight.

Stan Kalwasinski photo

IN THE CHICAGO area, Whitey was known to fans as a top short track driver. Here he is shown after a win last year at the Illiana (Schererville, Ind.) Speedway, the track at which he was fatally injured.

Before Today

This is the seventh annual Miller High Life 200, but the history of the July stock car race at the Wisconsin State Fair Speedway dates back a quarter of a century.

Twenty-five of the events have been run, the first in 1949. The first five events were contested on the one-mile oval. The track was paved in early 1954 and from then on racing was a blacktop affair.

Eleven of the events were 150 miles in length, the last being in 1959. The show was extended to 200 miles in 1960 and remains that to this day.

In 1968 the Miller Brewing Company adopted the event and since that date the event was known as the Miller High Life 200.

Seventeen drivers have won the event with Don White's four victories at the top of the list. Fords have accounted for 10 wins, by far the most of any make.

NORM NELSON signed autographs after his July 17, 1955 victory in the 150-mile AAA stock car race here. He drove a 1955 Chrysler 300.

The July stock car race now enters its second quarter century with one of the richest histories of any stock car event in the country.

Previous winners of the July late model stock car race are:

HAWKEYE HOPEFULS

The state of Iowa has more than 60 dirt short tracks in its boundaries, yet it has produced an unusual number of paved track drivers. Here are a trio of Iowa entries in today's race.

IRV JANNEY of Cedar Rapids, shown displaying his protective headgear, was USAC's 1973 stock car rookie of the year after placing 11th in the point standings. The former International Motor Contest Assn. champion finished seventh in the Miller 200 and cracked the top 10 in two other Milwaukee appearances last year.

TERRY RYAN of Davenport, became a regular USAC late model campaigner in 1972 after starring in the Mid-Continent Racing Assn. and International Motor Contest Assn. Last year he finished 11th in the Miller 200 and 21st in USAC's point race. He is driving an updated version of A. J. Foyt's Chevelle of last year.

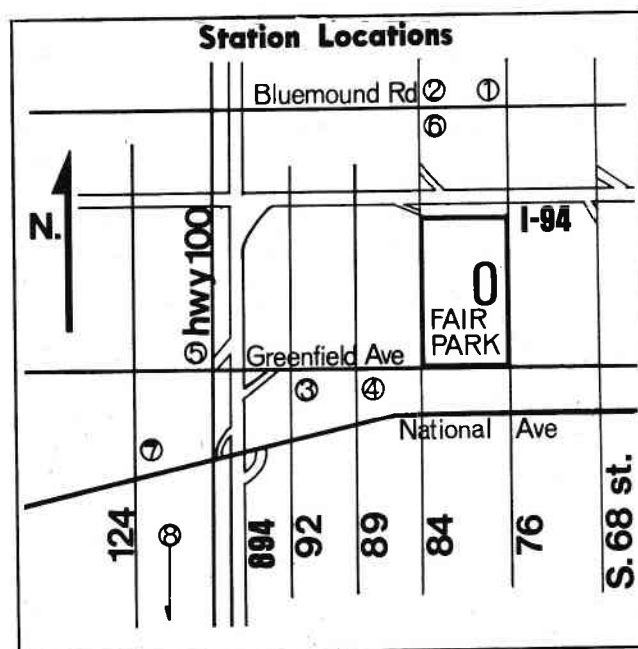

Mike Dunn Photos

RAMO STOTT of Keokuk, won the Automobile Racing Club of America championship in 1971 and was runner-up in last year's USAC point standings. He displayed his consistency at Milwaukee by finishing fourth in last year's Miller 200 and placing no lower than sixth in the three other races here. He is campaigning a 1972 Monte Carlo on the pavement this season.

FIVE REASONS TO DRIVE A SET OF NEW UNION RADIAL STEEL TIRES.

★ Unlike many steel-belted radial tires, the Union Radial Steel is a "low profile" tire that easily absorbs road shock.

★ Two wide steel belts under the tread reduce the chance of impact breaks or punctures. (Some steel-belted radials have only one steel belt.)

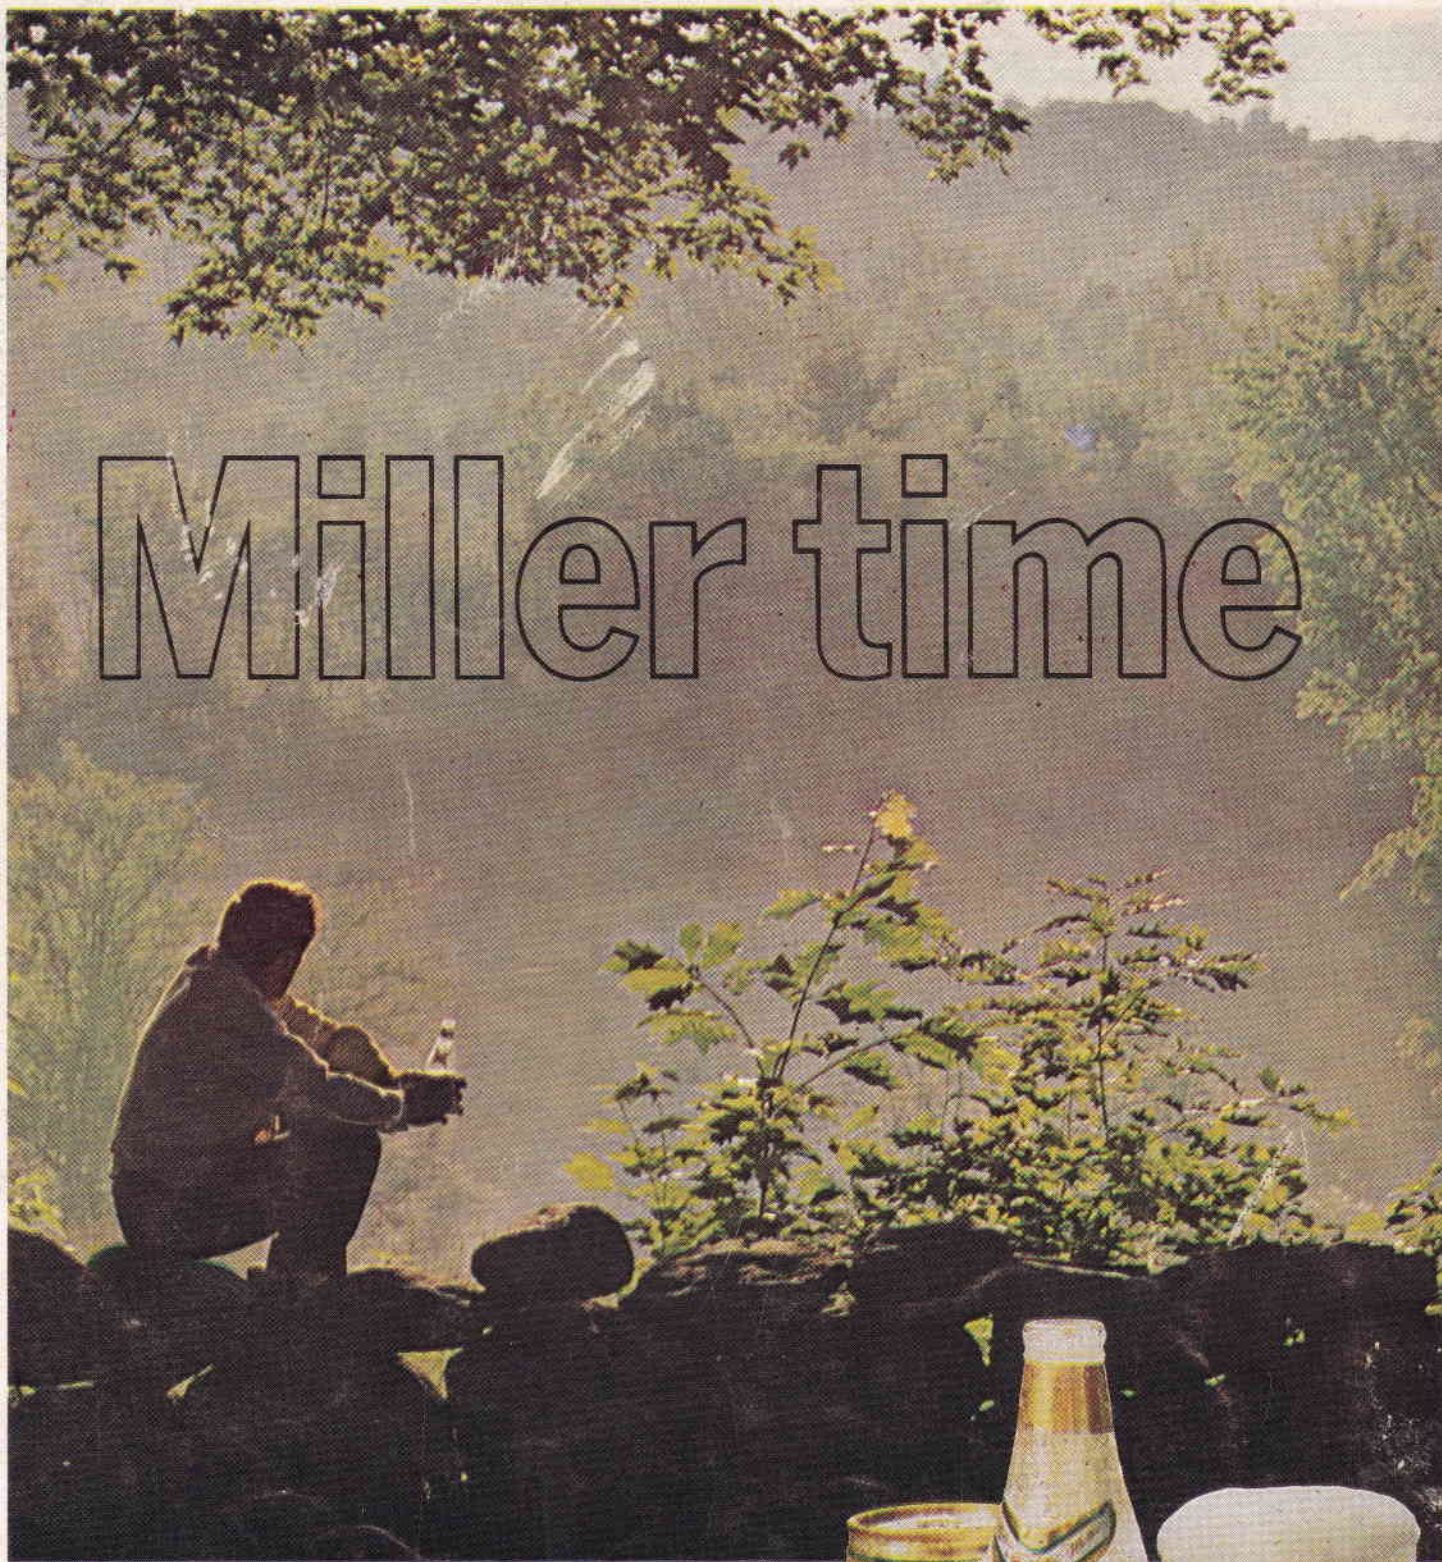

★ Flexible, ballooned sidewalls let the tire lean with the turn, while steel belts keep the tread flat, firmly in contact with the road while driving at safe speeds. We call it the "glide ride."

★ Radial design delivers more gasoline mileage than bias ply tires due to less rolling resistance. It takes less horsepower to start and keep a radial tire rolling.

★ Double steel belts hold the tread firmly on the road and fight tread "squirm" which scrubs away tire mileage. This is why we call the Union Radial Steel our 40,000-mile tire. For better gasoline mileage and a "glide ride," buy a full set of our 40,000-mile tires—The Union Radial Steel.
